

And so the story continues...

After 15 years of marriage, the once young and vibrant teenagers, now tired and sleep deprived, thought life was just not boring enough. What could our crazy family of 5 do to spruce things up a bit. So they thought and they thought and they thought. Should we travel the world? Should we move back to Minnesota and brave the cold winters once again? Should we homeschool? Should we open an organic non GMO restaurant? Although all those sounded interesting in their own right, none of these ideas sounded like the right solution for us, at least not right now. So this was their solution.

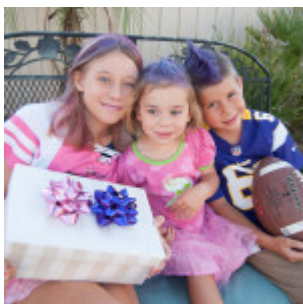

We are so excited to announce that we will be expecting baby Nelson in early February of 2016. Stay tuned to find out if baby Nelson will be a boy or a girl. Please comment below and let us know what you think baby will be.
